

State Net® Code Links

Correct, precise, reliable—expertly designed for improved analysis

Elements

- Click directly from all versions of bill text to the precise and relevant statute.
- See, in perspective, how proposed law fits into the bigger picture.

Designed for Usability

State Net Code Links refer you to the appropriate code section, and the language you need, so you can make faster, more informed decisions. Other sources simply drop you in the general vicinity and force you to fend for yourself.

Benefits Overview

- Pinpoint accuracy: you are directed to the relevant section of existing code not a general spot on the state site
- Reliability: our expert staff employ sophisticated quality control techniques to ensure accurate viable links
- Frustration free: complete coverage and no junk links. State Net delivers a superior and usable analytical tool
- Available in all 50-states, DC & US

Government Affairs Challenge:

- Assessing the specific affect of proposed and enacted legislation on existing law
- Analyzing complex legislative language in context
- Making informed judgments about the real or potential impact on your organization

State Net Solution:

- Direct, highly reliable links from proposed or enacted bill text to specific and relevant code sections
- Research-efficient access to situation-specific sections to enables quicker analysis

Exclusive Content “Powered by LexisNexis®”

State Net and LexisNexis have combined smart technology with the knowledge of our state experts to provide direct, highly-reliable links from proposed or enacted bill text to specific and relevant code sections. This content is now powered by LexisNexis so you can access the most current version in a consistent format that includes context for statutory changes.

Throughout the year, states make changes to their statutes but content published on state websites is not always up to date. LexisNexis has editorial teams committed to interpreting the effect of new legislation who proactively update code on a regular basis. This data is certified and authenticated so you can be confident that the information is current and accurate.

Comprehensive coverage. Deciphered and decoded by analysts. Expert reporting that transforms information into knowledge.
